

Of selfless service

At all times, man had worldly desires and ideas about how to live his life in contentment and happiness.

In the Bible it is written:

"Man does not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God." (Mt 4:4)

The worldly man seeks primarily the satisfaction that the world offers, the mental-spiritual man seeks to find the peace of God.

We trust in the words of the Bible:

"For as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ." (1 Cor. 12:12)

With the help of God's we can confidently walk the path of mercy and charity to obtain peace for for us and all people. If I am ready to serve my neighbor as part of "the one body", this can be regarded being selfless service while promoting peace at the same time. My neighbor is every person here on earth, regardless of religion, race and culture. To him my compassion, my tolerance and my strong support is directed. Selfless service assumes that there is no self-interest. The freedom to decide to think good and to do good for love's sake unites all men into the Oneness of God.

If we are willing to devote our lives to love, we are willing to serve God's creation selflessly. Joy and contentment are the fruits of this activity.

"As my father loves me so have I loved you. Abide in my love" (John 15:9)
