

The truth is ...

A man who loves truth, loves God. God himself is the truth.
Omnipresent, omniscient and omnipotent, eternally one and Creator of all things.
This God is the love in all beings.

The truth is, God is with you in your heart, here and now.
The soul of man is His home,
His light illuminates everything that is.
As we are with God quietly and softly,
then the soul unites with Him.
The power of love, it flows into being,
when the mind dwells in God.
Man is peaceful and glad when blossoming in you, in you, my God.
What a noble service, what happiness to be alone with you, my God in the heart.
Oh dear, let me be with you,
You're giving order to my mind, You make me clean.
You're my home, my happiness,
in your spirit we're in ecstasy.
So life has a purpose
when He and I are in heaven.

Willibald